

Changing The Background

Your uninspiring screen should look similar to that shown below.

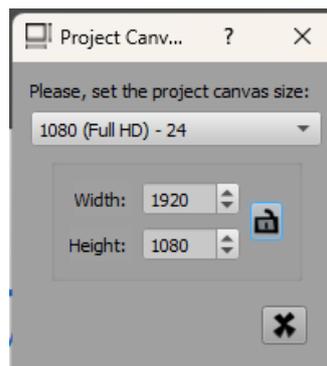

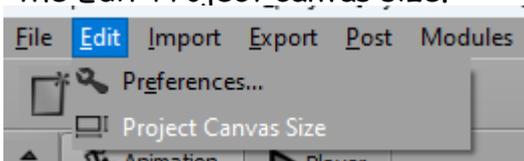

The white rectangle is the background. To change the colour of the background, I opened the color palette.

You can choose any colour but the change will not happen Unless you click on the background box.

I chose a shade of blue. You can change the size of the background using the Edit-Project_canvas size.

This opens another dialogue box where you can choose from a range of options including freeform.

Freeform is useful if you want to use a photograph as a background. Use the Import menu to add your photograph.
